HAPPENINGS OF INTEREST FROM DIFFERENT SECTIONS

Alanson G. Wright has had 17 sheep on his farm in Vergennes killed by dogs.

Two heifers belonging to Herbert Thorp of Charlotte were killed by lightning last week.

Irving Ishman caught a pickerel at Shelburne pond in St. George recently that weighed 13 pounds.

In a recent casualty list issued at Ottawa the name of J. C. Morgan of St. Johnsbury was given among the wounded.

Rev. Robbins Wolcott Barstow has resigned the pastorate of the Congregational church in Woodstock to enter the army.

Each girl graduate from the White River Junction grammar school wore a gown of her own making at commencement last week. They were of white voile.

Stephen B. Anderson, a well known traveling salesman for grocery houses, died at his home in St. Albans June 8 of heart disease. He is survived by his wife and one son, George P. Anderson, who is financial editor of the Boston Globe.

John Shiro of troop 1, 310th cavalry, Fort Ethan Allen was arrested at Middlebury Sunday, as he was trying to start the automobile of Gordon McQuivey, which had been left locked. Questioning revealed that he had left the post without permission.

Leonard F. Wing, a Rutland attorney, has been commissioned second lieutenant at Camp Gordon, Ga., where he has been stationed as drill instructor since he finished the officers' training school at Fort Oglethorpe. Lieutenant Wing has been assigned to the national army.

Rev. Guy Lamson, who declined reelection as general secretary of the American Baptist Publication society, Philadelphia, will become associated with the advertising firm of N. W. Ayer & Sons of that city. Mr. Lamson was formerly pastor of the Baptist church in Montpelier and is a native of Brattleboro.

Mrs. Guy B. Johnson of Bennington has received from her son, Lieutenant Chomondoley Johnson, who was injured while in action at the front in France, the piece of shrapnel, about as large as a finger nail, which went through his under lip and knocked out one of his front teeth. He was also wounded at the knee.

Instead of Fort Ethan Allen being used as a base hospital, as was reported some weeks ago, it has been located at Plattsburgh, and is already filling up with wounded and ill, some from the battlefields of France and some from the camps of our own country. The hospital, when in operation, will have a capacity of 1,000 patients.

Daniel Page Prescott, aged 65, died at his home in Vergennes June 6 from a complication of diseases. Mr. Prescott was born in Bath, N. H., but at the age of 14 went to Fairlee to live and in 1870 married Miss Arabella Kemp of that town in Newport. He was a section man on the Passumpsic division of the Boston & Maine for many years, and later was assistant roadmaster for the Central Vermont Railway company, with headquarters in Brattleboro. He was a lumberman in Vergennes for many years and also worked on a grist mill business in Brattleboro.

Andrews, now of Barnardston, Mass., but up to two years ago residents of Guilford, was killed recently by a train when he was arrested in Louisville, Ky. Mr. Andrews was a Pinkerton detective and before that connected with the William J. Burns agency, and was considered one of the best chief catchers in the business. It was at a race track that he arrested Phil Gentile for disorderly conduct and while Gentile was out on bail he trailed Andrews and shot him fatally. Gentile was apprehended and is now in confinement on the charge of murder. Mr. Andrews was 42 years old.

Prominent Ayshire Breeder Dead.
Brandon, June 11.—Charles M. Winslow, who was very prominent in the raising of Ayshire cattle and was one of the charter members of the Ayshire Breeders' association, died at his home here June 8. Mr. Winslow was secretary and treasurer of the National Ayshire Breeders' association and was first elected to that office in 1883, holding the office for 36 years.

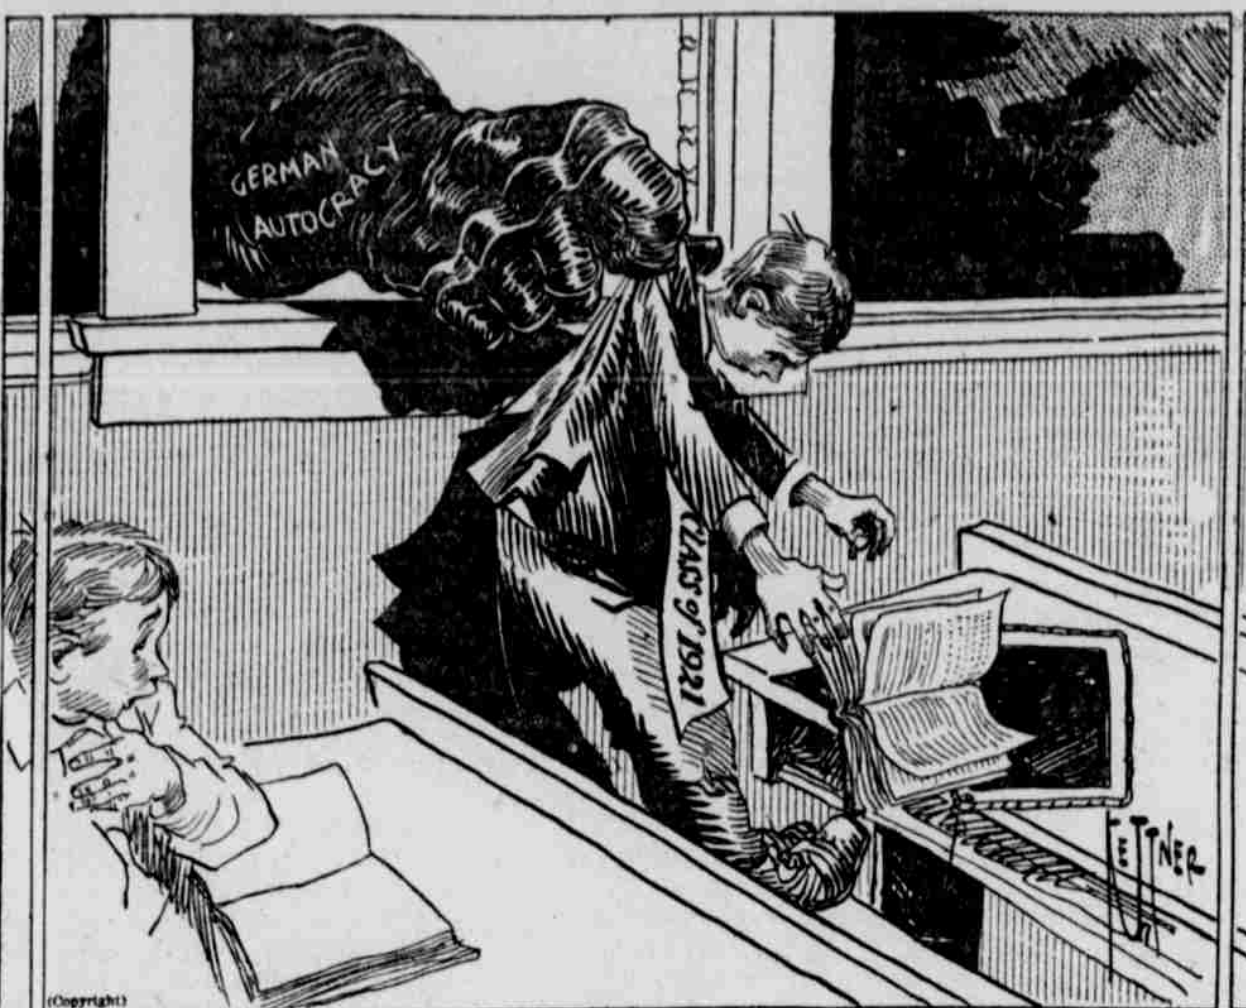

He served as president of the New England fair, which was held at Worcester, Mass., for a number of years. He had been president of the Vermont Ayshire club and vice-president of the New England Ayshire club. He was secretary of the state board of cattle commissioners for several years. In 1894 and 1895 he represented the town of Brandon in the legislature and had held town offices of importance. At one time he was urged to accept the nomination of lieutenant-governor.

Although Mr. Winslow had been in poor health for some time, he had been feeling better and the end came suddenly.

FOR FUN IN LODGE ROOM

Electric "Goat" Has Been Devised to Furnish Amusement to Members Inclined to Levity.

An electric "goat" for lodgerooms receives the second prize in the Electrical Experimenters' monthly competition. Its inventor is C. F. Conant, who describes it as follows:

Drive four small wire brads (a) into the under side of chair seat, letting just the points appear on the upper side of seat. With a fine nail set drive them back so that they remain just below the surface.

Fasten a small insulated coil (c) and a battery (b) under the seat, soldering the secondary wires (f) to the ends of the brads (a). The parts of the switch (d) can be made from small strips of brass or copper, and screwed to the back of chair, as shown.

Run the wires (e) down the back of chair to coil and battery, keeping them out of sight as much as possible. The switch (d) is concealed by a pad or drape of some kind thrown over the back of the chair, as aforementioned, and the chair is ready for the first victim. When said victim leans back against the switch (d), closing the battery circuit with the coil (c), the fireworks begin. The coil may be a one-fourth to one-half inch spark coil, and it is well to cover over the bottom and legs of the chair with cloth, etc.

Eucalyptus Valuable Tree.

Eucalyptus will grow under many adverse conditions, so long as they are protected from frost. The young trees cannot stand frost, and this fact has restricted the growth of the species to certain favorable sections of California and the Southwest. On the other hand, the trees will thrive on very poor soil and they do not require very much attention. Some of the largest commercial plantations, maintained by railroad companies for tie-making purposes, are located along the shores of the Pacific ocean near San Diego, where their principal moisture comes from the heavy fogs that roll in from the sea, and which are absorbed by the leaves.

Peculiar Pronunciation.

The pronunciation of English proper names is established arbitrarily and independent of ordinary rules. In England they pronounce the name of the poet Cowper, Cooper; that of Lord Cockburn, a former chief justice, Coburn; that of Earl Chomondoley, an English general and poet, Chumly. Marjoribanks is pronounced Marchbanks, and Bolingbroke is Bullingbrook. The name of Hawarden castle, where Gladstone died, is pronounced Harden, and that of Colonel St. Legor, who served in the revolutionary war, is pronounced Silger.

Preparation Hard to Beat.

The two commercial travelers were boasting to each other of the merits of the respective fireproof safes for which they were agents. "I guess," said the first, "that we've given our safe 'some' test, and I reckon that our best trial was when we heaped up a collection of combustibles round it which took a week to burn out. Inside the safe was a little dog provided with food and water. At the end of the week we raked away the embers and opened the door of the safe which had been in the middle of that blazing bonfire for a week. Out jumped the little dog, well and happy, wagging his tail with delight. 'Yours is a good safe,' said the other, 'but it isn't in the same block with ours. We adopted the same test precisely, and when we'd raked away the embers and come to the safe at last we opened the door and our little dog—' He paused dramatically. 'Was dead,' interrupted his rival. 'Yes, sir,' was the reply. 'You've hit it. Frozen to death!'

Napoleon Once Said:

"A footstep army is an army half defeated." In the training camps, in cantonments, in the army and navy suffer from blisters and sore spots on their feet. Every "Comfort Kit" should contain one or more boxes of Allen's Foot-Powder, the antiseptic powder to shake into the shoes. It freshens the tired, aching, smarting feet and heals blisters and sore spots. The Plattsburgh Camp Manual advises men in training to make daily use of Foot-Powder. Sold everywhere. 25c.—Adv.
